

A full-page background image of an ice cave. The walls and ceiling are made of translucent, deep blue ice with visible air bubbles and textures. A person wearing a red helmet and dark clothing stands on a snow-covered rock in the center, looking out through a bright opening in the ice. The lighting is dramatic, with the interior being dark blue and the exit being bright white.

1. When you see a lagoon that's full of icebergs, don't go swimming in it.
