I'm interested in Office 365 because……

Our mail server is nearing its end-of-lifetime. Too much downtime.

A new mail server will set me back quite a bit

Our administrator spends too much time keeping the mail server up and running

Our users really would benefit from the new features in Outlook

I'm interested in Office 365 because……

It's expensive to buy IT. Making the investment up front is difficult

I would like to allocate my brightest IT people to more strategic projects

Some of my employees have no access to our IT systems. In many ways they feel like they're not part of the company

My people are working from many different locations and its not easy for them to collaborate with each others and our customers

I'm interested in Office 365 because……

We might miss important input from our people in the field, since they cant access our intranet

We need to print their pay slips, put it in an envelope and send it to them – it would be much easier if we could email the pay slip to them

I know we would be able to work much smarter with the newest technology. I just dont know which users to give what and when

Sometimes we're unable to find our documents again. We often end up recreating and reworking documents

I'm interested in Office 365 because……

We have users across many locations

We spend a lot of time and money travelling and on meeting activities

Often we waste valuable time waiting for an email to get answered

We have a lot external partners we'd like to collaborate more easily and effective with
